

Dear Teacher,

I noticed in this month's Scholastic Book Club flyer that parents can now send you their Book Club orders online.

What a great idea! Sending orders online sounds terrific! I can use my credit card (so I don't have to send money to school with my child). I can shop a larger selection online with thousands of just-right books at the best prices and get a lot more product information than I can from the printed flyers. This will help me select the right books for my child.

Plus, our class earns a FREE Book every time a parent sends you an order online. All class orders will be delivered to the classroom, as always.

I'd like to get started, but I need our class activation code first. You can set up online ordering at www.scholastic.com/bookclubs to get this code.

It's always a big event in our family when the Scholastic Book Club flyer comes home, so thank you for making this service available to our class this year. And now with online ordering, it can be even more convenient for everyone!

Thanks,
